TRUSTS

Trusteeship in every form plays continually a larger part in life. In the mere matter of business, the economy and celerity with which a concern formed for the purpose of trusteeship, and making that its sole object, can discharge the duties demanded, recommend it above any individual custody.

It is coming to be that in assignments, receiverships, guardianships and similar requirements both courts and people recognize the superiority of trust companies, their greater scenrity, facilities and consequently the greater celerity and saving which result from the management of such affairs. Full particulars of the operation of a trust company, and all advice desired in any special case, will be given free by the undersigned, and consultation in person or by letter

Silver certificates, 65@664c. Bar silver closed at 65%c per ounce; Mexican dollars, June, 521/c; at London bar silver closed at 301/d. The stock market was irregular in movement and unsettled in tone, the result of the day's trading being the establishment of a range of prices extending from 21/2 per cent. below to 1/8 per cent. above Tuesday's closing figures. The declines were more numerous than the gains, the latter being mainly confined to the specialties. Speculation was less active than usual and the trading was largely confined to the professional traders, London supplying only a small portion of the dealings and dividing its patronage about equally on each side of the market. Influences at work in the market were continued favorable reports of railroad earnings as a bull factor and rumors that the forthcoming crop report of the government will show a loss of condition in corn, being a bear argument. The grangers were chiefly affected by this latter point, and St. Paul was sold by London, but even in this group the de-preciation was merely fractional. Western Union was rendered a trifle weak by realization of recent profits. The general market opened irregular and except for a brief period of strength was heavy during the entire morning. After midday a fractional rally took place, but before 2 o'clock the speculation nad again taken a downward turn, the decline being checked in the late dealings when a general recovery of a small fraction took place, the market closing only barely steady. Sugar led in the transactions, fluctuating within a limit of 2 per cent. The stock advanced % in the early dealings, but soon began to sag off and steady selling up to the close, the last being the lowest price of the day, 2 per cent, below the highest point of the morning and 14 down from Tuesday. Sugars are very firm, roasted coffee is weak, eggs firmer and advancing, poultry weaker and prices lower, Irish potatoes easier in price, but most fruits and vegetables firmer and bringing better prices than last week. The hide market is fairly active, but prices rule the same as for some weeks past. In wool little is doing, and the prospects are good that those who have bought the wool of this section will lose money before disposing of it. Iron and hardware markets are more active with littie change in prices.

CORN MARKET HIGHER

WHEAT, HOWEVER, WAS WEAKER AND LOST A FRACTION ON THE DAY.

Increase in the Visible Supply Estimated at 4,000,000 Bushels-Provisions Fell Off 15 to 25 Cents.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.-Corn continued to climb to-day, urged on by crop damage reports, and closed %c higher for May, but wheat failed to connect, finishing at a loss of 16c for December. September oats closed unchanged and provisions wound up with losses all around. Wheat started a shade easier than it closed yesterday, but that feeling only lasted a few seconds, at the end of which time it recovered the %@4c decline with which it opened and quickly added another %@%c. The firmness of the Liverpool market and the smallness of the Northwestern receipts were the most notable features of the early news, and another rise in the price of corn was a further encouragement to the bulls in wheat, those collective circumstances forming the motive power which gave the market its opening impetus. A private Liverpool cablegram quoted the wheat market firm, with a better demand. December started at 56%c. and a little of it changed hands at 1-16c under that. It recovered to 57%@57%c, and settled down into a deep rut at 57@571/c. So dull did it become at the latter point that for a long time it couldn't be bought at 57c nor sold at 57%c, and extremely little was either wanted or for sale at the split. Bradstreet's visible supply statement, showing 4,000,000 bushels increase on both coasts, caused a slightly easier feeling to prevail here during the last hour of the session. December sank gradually to 56%c and rested at 56%c. Corn was active and bulgy for about an hour, and during the remainder of the forenoon it ruled steady at about 1/2c advance over the opening price. It had to struggle for a moment or two at the start against the effect of heavier local re-ceipts than had been estimated. The ship-ping houses and elevator agents were the best buyers at the opening, and there was quite a sprinkling of buying orders from the West. The price rose until it knocked the opening and the highest point of the early advance. Short sellers claimed, as they have been doing for some time, that the shortage of this year's corn crop has been heavily overestimated. The longs hold, to the contrary, that the effect of the drought has been by no means exaggerated. The party expressing the latter views is for the present in the majority, and the market kept firm. May opened at 53% $\tilde{0}54c$, and rose to 54% $\tilde{0}54\cap{2}c$, and from that off to 54c, with 54% c the price at the close. September fluctuated within the range of 56% 657c, and closed at 56%c. Business in the oats market was of fair volume. The fluctuations continued to follow those of corn. September started at 29%c, sold up to 30c and back to 29%c, where it was at noon, closing at 29%c. The provision market still had some way on it from the speed of its upward progress yesterday when it started to-day. early buyers, however, were comforted by liberal offerings by the packers, the most conspicuous of whom were Armour & Co. and the Cudahy Packing Company. They not only stopped any further advance, but very soon after the opening a substantial decline was established. There were rallies, but in the end prices were about at their lowest for the day. In comparison with yesterday's closing price, September pork is 15c lower and January 22½c off. Lard for both those months declined .10c. Ribs are off .17¼c for February and .12½c for January. Freight rates steady at 1%c for wheat, 14c for corn and 1%c for oats to Buffalo and ic for oats to Port Huron. Estimates for Thursday: Wheat, 340 cars;

Elsewhere. CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Scanty pasturage and the present and prospective high cost head, making about 49,000 since Saturday, or 5,400 more than arrived the same time last week. There was a fair demand from all classes of buyers, but there were many too many cattle and orders were filled at reduced prices. Not more ripe steers were offered than could be placed at just a trifle off from yesterday's prices, but it was found to be impossible to dispose of all of the common to good grades, though there were anxious sellers at any reasonable concession. So far this week the offerings of prime bullocks have been more in favor than for the same days last week, which fact has alone saved that class from a severe decline. The arrivals of range cattle were estimated at 2,000 Texas and 7,000 Western, leaving 8,500 as the supply of natives. The latter were quoted at $1.25@5.90, with sales principally at $1.75@2.75 for cows, helfers and bulls and largely at $3.75@5.25 for steers. Sales of Westerns were scarce at $1.50@3.25 for of Westerns were scarce at $1.50@3.25 for cows and at $3@4.55 for steers, the bulk at $2.50@3 for the former and at $3.50@4 for the latter. The advance in hogs was checked to-day. Good grades sold as well as on yesterday, but common stuff was off 5518c and was hard to sell at the decline. Receipts were not very liberal, being estimated at 24,000 head, and the market for hog product continues to show great strength, but prices had already advanced 25@35c within the last week and buyers seemed to think it was time to call a temporary halt. Early in the day it was difficult to find buyers for common hogs, but there was a freer movement later and not much stuff was left over, Sales were at $5.75@6.40 for common to extra, the bulk at $5.90@6.30. There were sales of rough mixed lots as low as $5.50@5.65 and pigs and culls at
